SECTION II — RISK FACTORS

CHAPTER II.1

Risk Factors

Maps to disclosure requirements: R3.1, R3.2, R3.3, R3.4, R3.5

An investment in equity shares involves a high degree of risk. Investors should carefully consider all the information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, together with the Restated Financial Statements, before making an investment decision. If any of the following risks, or other risks that are not currently known or are currently deemed immaterial, actually occur, the business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition of the Company could be materially and adversely affected, the trading price of the equity shares could decline, and investors may lose all or part of their investment. The risks below are not exhaustive and are not set out in any order of priority or of the magnitude of their potential impact.

Internal risk factors

1. The Company derives a substantial proportion of its revenue from a limited number of customers. Its five largest customers are [· to be supplied: top customers ·] The loss of any of these customers, a reduction in the volume of orders placed by them, a renegotiation of commercial terms, or a delay or default in payment by them, could materially and adversely affect the Company's revenue, profitability and cash flows. The Company does not have committed offtake arrangements that guarantee minimum volumes over the life of its supply relationships.
2. The Company is dependent on a limited supplier base and on the price of its principal raw materials. [· to be supplied: suppliers ·] An interruption in supply, a deterioration in the commercial terms available to the Company, or a sustained increase in input prices that the Company is unable to pass on to customers under its existing pricing arrangements, would compress margins and adversely affect results of operations.
3. The Company's operations are working-capital intensive and its operating cash flow has been lower than its reported profit. Revenue from operations for the latest financial year was INR 142.44 crore and profit after tax was INR 15.85 crore, while net cash generated from operating activities was INR [· to be supplied: cashFlowLatest ·] crore. Any extension of customer credit periods, build-up of inventory, or delay in collections could constrain liquidity and increase the Company's reliance on borrowed funds.
5. A portion of the Net Proceeds is to be applied to capital expenditure that has not yet been incurred, and the Company has not entered into definitive arrangements for its entire proposed deployment. The proposed deployment described under "Objects of the Issue" is based on management estimates and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. Cost overruns, delays in commissioning, or a failure to secure the volumes assumed for the additional capacity could mean that the expected benefits of the expansion are not realised.
9. The Company depends on its promoters and a small senior management team. Mr. Manjeet Singh, Mrs. Karthiyani M, Mr. Himanshu Dalal, Mr. Mehtab Singh and Mrs. Anita Kumari have led the Company's operations and hold key customer and supplier relationships. The loss of the services of the promoters or of other key managerial personnel, or an inability to attract and retain qualified personnel, could adversely affect the Company's ability to operate and to execute its stated strategy.

External and industry risk factors

10. The Company operates in the Solar and renewable energy equipment sector and its performance is linked to conditions in that sector and in the broader economy. A slowdown in end-user demand, changes in customer production plans, technological change affecting the Company's products, or the entry of competitors with greater financial or technical resources, could reduce the Company's volumes and pricing. The Company competes with both organised and unorganised participants, some of whom may accept lower margins.

11. The Company's operations are subject to extensive regulation and require statutory approvals which must be maintained and periodically renewed. [· to be supplied: approvals ·] The failure to obtain, maintain or renew any material approval, or a change in the applicable regulatory regime including in environmental, labour or taxation law, could interrupt operations or increase the Company's cost of compliance.

Issue-related risk factors

12. There has been no public market for the equity shares and an active or sustained trading market may not develop. The equity shares are proposed to be listed on NSE Emerge. Securities listed on the SME platform are typically less liquid than securities listed on the main board, are traded in specified lot sizes, and may exhibit greater price volatility. Investors may be unable to sell the equity shares at or above the Issue price, or at all.

13. The Issue price is not indicative of the market price of the equity shares after the Issue. The Issue price of [· to be supplied: price band ·] has been determined by the Company in consultation with the Lead Manager on the basis of the factors described under "Basis for Issue Price", and should not be taken to be indicative of the market price of the equity shares after listing. The market price may be affected by the Company's results, conditions in the Solar and renewable energy equipment sector, and general market conditions, and may decline below the Issue price.

14. The Company's ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on its earnings, capital requirements and financing arrangements. [· to be supplied: dividend history ·] The Company intends to retain earnings to fund the expansion described under "Objects of the Issue", and there is no assurance that it will declare dividends in any future period.

Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities

Maps to disclosure requirements: R16.1

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated by the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 and the rules and regulations made thereunder, including the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019, and by the consolidated foreign direct investment policy issued by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade. While the consolidated policy prescribes the limits and the entry route for investment in each sector, the Reserve Bank of India and the Government of India prescribe the pricing guidelines and the reporting requirements applicable to such investment.

Under the current regime, foreign direct investment up to 100 per cent is permitted under the automatic route in most manufacturing activities, subject to compliance with the applicable pricing guidelines, sectoral conditions and reporting requirements. An investment by an entity of a country which shares a land border with India, or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of such a country, can be made only under the Government route.

The equity shares have not been and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933 or under the securities laws of any state of the United States, and may not be offered or sold within the United States except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of that Act and applicable state securities laws.
